JOEL MEIER ATTENDS LEISURE, RECREATION MEETING

MISSOULA--

Dr. Joel Meier, an associate professor of health, physical education and recreation at the University of Montana, attended the National Board of Directors meeting of the American Association for Leisure and Recreation (AALR), which was held June 13-15 in Milwaukee, Wis. Meier also was invited to make a guest appearance on Milwaukee's Channel 4 Television, where he was interviewed on the subject of national trends in outdoor recreation.

Meier is the director of the recreation curriculum at UM and is presently serving as vice president of the Northwest District of the AALR, an association of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. AALR is a 4,000 member association which is committed to the improvement of the quality of American life through the development of school, community and national programs of leisure services and recreation education.
